

KORENFESTIVAL AMUSING HENGELO

March 2024

New locations for stages.

We already mentioned it in our previous newsletter: the city center of Hengelo is becoming more and more beautiful. The construction site of recent years has virtually disappeared and many projects are completed or almost completed. This also means that participants and audience, but also we, have fewer "obstacles" to overcome during our festival.

This spring, a few beautiful locations were completed and we responded to this with the choice of our stage locations. For example, there will be a stage for the new Bataafse Kamp residential complex. The Hengelo station hall and the music café of pop-temple Metropool will become two new indoor locations. We hope that with these three new locations we have made a good expansion within a reasonable walking distance of each other and the existing performance areas. Also good to report: the Lambertus Basilica has been stripped of an attached shopping complex and a small park has been created 'behind the church'. With a view of that little park, there will be another stage in Wemenstraat. Although not a really new location, the view is much better. We hope that participants and visitors are as enthusiastic about this as we are.

Double2 does the after party. That's going to be a party!

We have roped in the 4 ladies of the Double2 to take care of the after party. This sparkling 4-woman band has guaranteed musical fun for more than 17 years. The repertoire is well varied and they make it a sing-along party. Suitable for our after party.

So come to Schouwburgplein at 5 p.m. at the end of our festival, enjoy and sing along with the ladies of Double2.
